PRELUDE

One in every five community college students in the nation attends a California Community College (CCC), and nearly 70% of those students are students of color. Five years ago, the Vision for Success catalyzed a paradigm shift in higher education statewide, challenging us to acknowledge that while well-intentioned, our institutions have historically failed to adequately address and dismantle systemic barriers that produce inequitable outcomes, particularly for students of color. The 2022-25 Student Equity Plan paves the way for colleges across the system to commit to sharpening our focus on dismantling these institutional barriers while intensifying our resolve to achieve racial equity in outcomes for our students of color.

In 2020, the convergence of a global pandemic and a reckoning with racial injustice prompted Chancellor Oakley to make a "Call to Action" to mobilize the system to use our collective positions of privilege, influence, and power, to recenter racial equity. As you prepare to develop your Student Equity Plan, we encourage you to consider your response to the Call to Action. Below are a few resources and background information to provide context and a foundation for your current and future equity efforts. We recommend you review these resources before you get started.

2022-25 STUDENT EQUITY PLAN TEMPLATE

Landing Page/Details

Guidance: With the 2022-25 Student Equity Plan, please focus on future efforts in sections involving student populations experiencing disproportionate impact. For this student equity planning cycle, we ask that colleges make an active effort to target inequitable outcomes more aggressively for students of color and set actionable goals for these efforts. Before you move on to writing your 2022-25 student equity plan, it is important to reflect on the 2019-22 plan and consider:

- What did we set out to accomplish and what did we achieve?
- Is there anything that worked well that we should continue?
- What do we want to do differently in the 2022-225 plan?
- How do we better partner with existing guided pathways efforts?
- What data are available for this retrospective analysis as well as our inquiry into current gaps and future goal setting?

This SEP REFLECTION section serves as a reflection opportunity and crosswalk to examine your existing equity efforts, the progress made, and how they can overlap with guided pathways initiatives on your campus. The responses to these questions should help you craft your response in the SEP REFLECTION section below.

Race Consciousness in Equity Plan Development (2,500 character max)

Help Text: Considering the research and documentation provided to your college about race consciousness (CUE Report, local data, etc.), please describe how your college plans to be more race conscious in completing this Student Equity Plan.

In the past year, San Bernardino Valley College (SBVC) has been intentional in creating a culture of equity, inclusion, and anti-racism. The campus has participated and continues to participate in the USC Racial Equity series. Participants encompass staff, faculty, and administration Enhancing professional development opportunities for faculty and staff. Expanded equity-mindedness within instructional support. Identify and institutionalize equitable hiring practices and processes. Created on campus and district Diversity Equity Inclusion and Anti-Racism committees to focus on enhancing our racial inequities.

- A detailed accounting of intended funding
- Assessment of the progress made in achieving identified goals

Student Populations Experiencing Disproportionate Impact

Guidance: Please review your provided data, local data, and consider your local context and priorities to select the student population experiencing the most disproportionate impact for each of the five metrics. You are only required to address one population per metric but may choose to address more than one population if you wish. If you select more than one population for a metric, you will be required to complete the full workflow for each population separately. As a result, the information you include in your planning section should be specifically targeted to address the needs of the population you select (i.e. avoid referencing "all students" and instead use population and identity-specific language).

Note you may also use the "other" field in order to address a population not listed in the drop-down menu (i.e. adult learners or noncredit students, for example).

STUDENT POPULATIONS EXPERIENCING DISPROPORTIONATE IMPACT & METRICS

Help Text: Select the main student population identified as experiencing disproportionate impact and which metrics you will report on (minimum of 1, maximum of 5). You may add additional populations after completing the metric fields for your most impacted student population. You must address at least one student population per metric in order to submit your plan in NOVA.

Guidance: Please approach this section with consideration of your current and future efforts, planning, budgeting, and collaborations regarding the identified student population experiencing disproportionate impact. Note, the population you selected in the previous section will autopopulate in the field below within NOVA.

Population Experiencing the Most Significant Disproportionate Impact:

From the available data spanning academic years 2017 through 2020, Black/African American students experienced disproportionate impact with the biggest percentage in 2017 yet inconsistently downward trending until 2020. Black/African American female students have experienced the most impact.

TARGET OUTCOMES FOR 2022-25

Target Outcomes

Help Text: What outcomes will your college target for this metric and population for 2022-25? Enter your one-, two-, or three-year outcomes. Note you may add as many (or as few) outcomes as you'd like, and you may self-define these outcomes. Outcomes may be quantitative (i.e., increase Black student enrollment by 5%) or qualitative (i.e., increase Latina/o/x student sense of belonging and measure using survey data). This section is for your own planning and improvement purposes, so you should establish your targets accordingly. Add as many rows as you need.

STRUCTURAL EVALUATION

STRUCTURE EVALUATION: Current Structure

Help Text: The California Community College Vision for Success explicitly names Guided Pathways as the organizing framework for all efforts designed to improve equitable student outcomes. The framework calls for comprehensive, transformative changes across an entire college, braided into a coherent plan for improvement. To accomplish the Vision, the Guided Pathways framework calls practitioners to analyze existing college structures, identify changes necessary to reform those structures, and implement those changes to achieve equitable outcomes for our students and communities. As such, this section of the student equity plan is designed to prompt a structural analysis of the myriad aspects of an institution (policies, processes, practices, and culture) that impede equitable student outcomes across instruction, student affairs, business services, or other divisions. With this in mind, please select the current structure focus, reflecting on institutional policies, processes, practices, and culture that have produced inequitable outcomes for the student population defined for this metric. (Select all that apply)

Instruction		Business Services
Student Services		Other

SBVC espouses student success and has endeavored to meet the needs of our students from local, virtual, and international student communities representing various races and ethnicities. Our students have been recipients of services implemented in response to the more recent mandates of Student Success Act, AB 705, and Guided Pathways Initiatives. Since then, the Student Equity Plan has propelled greater strides in processes, policies, and practices in enrollment.

In embodying student success values, Student Services have embraced and applied the RP Group framework of the Six Success Factors to guide student interactions most especially during counseling interactions. The framework identified that students are most likely to succeed if they are directed, focused, nurtured, engaged, connected, and valued. Likewise, in response to mandates, Instruction has reinforced curriculum with meaningful SLO's and relevant content, worked with Student Services on Guided Pathways, included racially infused teaching and aesthetics in all courses offered. Professional development and collegial consultations among constituencies, most notably the Academic and Classified Senates, have made student success as topmost priority. All these efforts have contributed to student success but have not radically eliminated disproportionate impacts on our student populations. Much work is yet to be done. With the newly energized and ever pressing focus towards equity as championed through racially and culturally competent services, student support, teaching and learning undertakings, our Black/African American students have been identified as the most disproportionately impacted group in Successful Enrollment.

The well-defined scope and functions of Student Services and Instruction and limitations posed by FERPA and HIPAA have somehow moderated the ways and manner we address and meet the needs of the students in general. Often, the interactions of the two have been through bidirectional referrals (from Instruction to Student Services and vice versa) and through counselor liaisons with Instructional Departments, contractual committee meetings, Senate meetings, Professional Development Activities, and the like. However, bifurcation of functions remains, i.e., It is Student Services arena; this is the scope of Instruction.

The interactions and cascading of information have not been so fluid throughout the semester and the academic year such that our Black/African Americans students might not have experientially felt the seamlessness, convergence, and coherence of teaching and counseling services and the concomitant academic and student supports.

Also, collaborative efforts and discussions might become too centered on deficits thereby making long-term developmental efforts become auxiliary goals and invalidating of the victories of the now and what is good and adequate. To acknowledge that we can be in the edges and not looping into the already trodden ways of what have already been set in place previously might enable us to move and unfold the next phases of changes and improvements. A newly designed approach respectful of scope and professional boundaries, using interdisciplinary and stepwise efforts from outreach, onboarding, registration, and class attendance may be adopted.

Black/African American students may have raised their expectations in their first contact with any of us, but they are yet to understand the processes of getting enrolled at SBVC. The enhanced onboarding processes have been well-outlined yet as expressed by them, they would like to see personnel who are ethnically matched or who they deem as ethnically matched.

STRUCTURE EVALUATION: Ideal Structure

Help Text: Based on your analysis of the current process, policy, practice, and/or culture that impedes equitable outcomes for the student population selected for this metric, please use this opportunity to envision and detail a more ideal structure. What structural changes would be necessary to make to transform this process, policy, practice, or culture toward a more equity-minded one? (Select all that apply)

Instruction	Business Services
Student Services	Other

What equity-minded process/policy/practice/culture would facilitate a shift to equitable outcomes for this population? (2,500 character max)

SBVC outreach and enrollment efforts need to demonstrate the belief system and values that engender trust, transparency, follow through, and accountability beyond current efforts and enhanced customer/consumer services. Targeted outreach efforts by Black/African American academic and counseling faculty, staff, and student ambassadors may be envisioned. Onboarding processes with identified crucial points for shared activity between Student Services and Instruction can make visible the coherent engagement of these two sectors of the college. Matching high onboarding needs and satisfaction of needs via meaningful delivery of services is important regardless of students' helpseeking behaviors. An institutionalized practice of collaborative work especially during peak days of registration may decrease disproportionate impact. The importance of continuous conversation with Instruction

The following steps are suggested:

1. Continuous and collaborative engagement by Student Services and Instruction using stepwise approach, that is, giving speedy response to priorities and conducting ongoing evaluation on efforts/campaigns

- 2. Professional development training for faculty and staff on changes that have been adopted under the equity lens and advocacy for Black/African American students
- 3. Creation of Black/African American Student Center within a Multicultural Center
- 4. Creation of Cultural Center to advance the cause of equity for Black/African American students and community outreach staffed by Black/African American staff and culturally trained allies
- 5. Establishment of additional or enhanced Orientation and Day of Welcome designed for Black/African American Students
- 6. Formation of Paid and Designated mentorship for incoming students at SBVC
- 7. Formation of Paid and Designated mentorship for Black/African American prospective students at feeder high schools
- 8. Generation of partnership with A2Mend for mentorship of our male Black/African American students
- 9. Maintenance and reinforcement of students' sense of meaning, purpose, and belonging at SBVC during the entire first semester of entry and particularly during the first three weeks of school
- 10. Introduce students to the active developmental approach to career identification from the AA degrees to transfer, particularly in the use of the Transfer Curriculum Model and Guided Pathways approaches
- 11. Extension of Guided Pathways efforts to promote career literacy in each course and programs offered
- 12. Focus on life design and career development approaches that lead to certainty in choice of programs of study and students' greater understanding of the control they have in their graduation and transfer velocity

- 13. Development of podcasts on careers and decisionmaking processes adapted to generational cohorts, particularly towards Generations Y and Z
- 14. Collaboration with CTE in the use of Job Speaker, Student Services on tools available in Vita Navis, specialized services
- 15. Reinforcement of the use of Vita Navis in all its features, i.e., Career Pathways, Education Pathways, Skills Builder and Resume Builder and overall use of Students' Dashboard
- 16. Maximized utilization of Starfish Referral system and Degree planner education plans
- 17. Formation of Community of Practice across Academic disciplines and Student Services to foster the enrollment success of Black/African American students

Population Experiencing the Most Significant Disproportionate Impact:

Data has shown that a large population of SBVC students would previously place into below transfer-level mathematics courses prior to AB 705 implementation. With the implementation of AB 705, inequities were created, as students were now placed into higher level mathematics courses, but still required the prerequisite math knowledge. As such, success and completion rates were drastically affected for all transfer-level mathematics courses.

Over the past few years, the department has continuously engaged in discussions of expanding accessibility through the incorporation of a cultural mindfulness lens, and the department remains sensitive to the needs of our students, continuing a culture of inclusivity. With the implementation of AB 705, the English Department was put in the unique position of revising its curriculum and providing supplemental support to meet student needs through the equity lens, ensuring that inclusivity creates a pathway for student success. In spring 2018, the department evaluated AB 705 implementation possibilities and chose the corequisite model, taking into consideration its alignment with SBVC culture and structure, including the identification of relevant support services that would assist in promoting the effectiveness of this model. The department enlisted guidance from the California Acceleration Project in the design of the corequisites to insure corequisite effectiveness and fulfillment of AB 705 guidelines. English 086 and English 087 were approved by the department as supplemental coursework to assist underprepared students in the college-level English course—English 101. In order to address the newly developed curriculum, in spring 2019, the department formed a Community of Practice, inclusive of full- and part-time faculty to provide continued professional development training for teaching the new curriculum. An embedded tutoring program for 086 and 087 was piloted in spring 2019, with wider implementation in subsequent semesters, and the department continues with embedded tutoring in all 086 and 087 courses. And a Canvas community, the English Roundtable, was created and is continuously revised to house key AB 705 documents and to allow faculty to share syllabi, assignments, and other useful information for English 101, 086, and 087.

As the department moves forward, the following activities have been identified by the English Department for inclusion in the Student Equity Plan in order to provide further support for African-American students:

- 1. Evaluate disaggregated data for English 101, 101/086, 101/087 to address the impact of the corequisites on the African-American students.
- 2. Explore mentoring processes for the targeted population, which could include:
  - a. pairing incoming African American students with African American students who have successfully completed English 101
  - b. collaborating with the Supplemental Instruction Coordinator to bring those student mentors into the classroom
  - c. enlisting those student representatives to lead campuswide student book discussions—possibly partnering with the Black Student Union
  - d. actively recruiting African-American high school seniors, connecting the targeted population with the student mentors.

- 1. Review English course outlines of record to evaluate textbook suggestions—looking toward inclusion of texts that reflect the profile and needs of African-American students and removing texts that are biased.
- 2. Evaluate course objectives and SLOs, viewing the necessary course requirements through an equity lens and the way they respond to African-American student needs and avoiding bias.
- 3. Revise departmental employment notices to emphasize in the desirable qualifications the need for diverse expertise, particularly in African-American Studies/Ethnic Studies.
- 4. Actively recruit at universities, for full- and part- time faculty who offer African-American Studies/Ethnic Studies expertise.
- 5. Continue to apply for Basic Skills funding to expand the Community of Practice membership within the English Department and continue to expand the Community of Practice training opportunities for full- and part-time faculty to include training that will provide direct support for faculty to address the needs of the African-American student population—topics could include trauma informed care, antiracist pedagogies, responses to unjust authority, etc.
- 6. Work closely with the Office of Institutional Research to create and implement an English student survey to identify barriers to African-American student success, comparing students who succeed with those who do not succeed in a two-semester (and possibly two-year) research study.
- 7. Collaborate with FTVM to produce podcasts by African-American instructors who can speak directly to the students about their own experiences.
- 8. Explore collaborations with other campus programs and learning groups—linking English 101 with Tumaini, collaborating with Athletic Instructors/Coaches to provide Writing Center tutoring support for the HUB, and recruiting for specialized English courses, etc.

- 9. Create a focused English 101 course for specific populations—linking the curriculum to their special interests—Athletics, Veterans, etc.
- 10. Work with Student Services to identify a Counselor who would be the liaison between English faculty and African-American students, providing a human element/direct connection between all three individuals—student, faculty, and counselor—whenever a student is in need of assistance
- 11. Aggressively promote the African-American Literature course.

SBVC currently has a multi-facet approach to supporting student retention. There are several well-established student services programs, such as First-Year Experience (FYE), EOPS, Puente, MESA, Honors, etc. focused on providing intrusive support to increase students' retention. In addition, SBVC provides a myriad of academic support. Due to the high demand and usage of academic support, Tutoring expand their facilities to add an additional larger space. Supplemental Instruction expanded their services.

The Writing Center also added embedded tutors to English courses. With the onset of COVID, academic support to include online services. Recently, SBVC launched a mentor program to better engage and retain students.

Through Guided Pathways effort, there are several student retention strategies. There are developed career pathways and website redesign.

Population Experiencing the Most Significant Disproportionate Impact:

At this time, the population experiencing the most significant disproportionate impact would be our African American students. In order to correct and resolve this issue, the college has planned and is currently planning several events that support a more inclusive and welcoming environment for African American students. In May 2022, a focus group was formed to invite African American students to give them the opportunity to share their unique perspectives and experiences at the college. This student group was very candid in their responses which gave the Student Equity Team much to consider as we continue to develop events, programs and services that directly support the African American population. In addition to the focus group, the following events are being developed to support this population of students:

- Black to School Night: this is an evening event that will allow African American students to learn more about the supports and services offered at the college. In addition to current San Bernardino Valley College students, high school students from the local area have been invited so they may also learn of the services and supports offered.
- A2MEND and Brothers: these are organizations that specifically target African American men. The purpose of these organizations is to provide mentorship, networking opportunities and general awareness of the African American male experience in colleges.

One of the key areas identified by our students in the focus group were that they didn't feel welcomed or supported on campus. They also identified the fact there is no safe place for African American students to go to help them navigate the challenging requirements of the college experience. This was one of the primary reasons why the events and organizations listed above were developed. This is a direct response from the college to address the needs of our African American students.

STRUCTURE EVALUATION: Current Structure

Help Text: The California Community College Vision for Success explicitly names Guided Pathways as the organizing framework for all efforts designed to improve equitable student outcomes. The framework calls for comprehensive, transformative changes across an entire college, braided into a coherent plan for improvement. To accomplish the Vision, the Guided Pathways framework calls practitioners to analyze existing college structures, identify changes necessary to reform those structures, and implement those changes to achieve equitable outcomes for our students and communities. As such, this section of the student equity plan is designed to prompt a structural analysis of the myriad aspects of an institution (policies, processes, practices, and culture) that impede equitable student outcomes across instruction, student affairs, business services, or other divisions. # What equity-minded process/policy/practice/culture would facilitate a shift to equitable outcomes for this population? (2,500 character max)

Creating an institutionalized program such as a department of African American student achievement where counselors are housed with outreach coordinators and administrative support would facilitate a shift for equitable outcomes for our African American students. The clubs, supports and services for this population would be managed in this area and attract more African American students because they would feel that there is a welcoming place for them where they can navigate through the college experience. This would also support increased enrollment across the college, which is something that is really needed at this time.

Developing a department of African American Student Achievement (AASA) would have to take place in phases to be mindful of potential budget issues that may arise. The following phases would be established:

Phase 1: Establishment of an African American Student Center (AASC) where students can network, learn about clubs, supports and services. The AASC would start by being staffed by a professional expert who would be overseen by the Dean of Student Equity.

Phase 2: Adding to the AASC would be an academic counselor and an outreach coordinator whose primary role would be to provide academic counseling and support and the outreach coordinator would work to support the student experience as well as develop events and programs that will bring more African American students to the campus.

Phase 3: This final phase would involve the hiring of an additional counselor, an additional outreach coordinator and the hiring of an administrator, the Director of Black Student Achievement to be overseen by the Dean of Student Equity.

Population Experiencing the Most Significant Disproportionate Impact:

Data from the academic years 2013 through 2017 showed that the Black/African American students were markedly and disproportionately impacted in 2014-2015. Different data was seen in 2015-2016 suggesting corrective efforts to increase transfer had contributed to closing the disproportionate gap. However, in 2016-2017 disproportionate impact reemerged.

A closer examination on the inter-section of race and gender revealed that the male students were impacted in 2013-2014 but not in academic years 2014, 2015, and 2016. The female group showed a bigger plunge into disproportionate impact in 2015-2016 although in academic years 2013, 2014, and 2016, the female group did not experience disproportionate impact.

Retrospective examination on historical data starting 2011 revealed that Black/African American students had been transferring to colleges and universities in bigger percentages in comparison to other races at SBVC during the academic years 2011 through 2013 and 2015, while in 2016 all comparison groups transferred in equal percentages.

No data on DI were available after 2017 which suggested that Black/African American students transferred to universities in equally the same percentage as the other races prevalent at SBVC.

What is the college's current process/policy/practice/culture that impedes equitable outcomes for this population? (2,500 character max)

The current process, policy, practice, and culture appear to have fostered the transfer of Black/African American students to colleges and universities. On the other hand, the Hispanic students have been transferring at a lower percentage compared to all non-Hispanic groups during academic years 2013, 2015, and 2016 with a striking six percentage plummet than the comparison groups in 2016-2017. Similarly, a closer look revealed that the male Hispanic students experienced disproportionate impact in academic years 2013 and 2014 among the Hispanic groups.

What has fostered the transfer culture among Black/African American students which can be applied to the Hispanic groups? What nuances in culture seemed to have supported the former group and what are these that may enhance the latter group? Given that the same policies, processes, and practices are applied to all groups of students, it is suggested that continued research and cross-discipline discourses across campus will help in uncovering the factors and behaviors that will become strengths in the transfer culture for both Black/African American and Hispanic students.

The following approaches/strategies are aimed to enhance efforts that are crucial to positive outcomes among Black/African American students including the promotion of such to Hispanic students.

1. Continue campaign efforts to promote transfer culture aimed at increasing students from the two targeted groups with

- racial-and ethnic-infused language, sensitivities, and aesthetics
- 2. Mentorship modeled after PUENTE or TUMAINI learning communities be made available to the targeted groups
- 3. Sustain and reinforce students sense of meaning, purpose, and belonging in their educational goals and life experience
- 4. Use of active developmental approach to career identification from the AA degrees to transfer, particularly in the use of the Transfer Curriculum Model and Guided Pathways approaches
- 5. Extend Guided Pathways efforts to promote career literacy in each course and programs offered
- 6. Focus on life design and career development approaches that lead to certainty in choice of programs of study and students' greater understanding of the control they have in their graduation and transfer velocity
- 7. Develop podcasts on careers and decision-making processes adapted to generational cohorts, particularly towards Generations Y and Z
- 8. Collaborate with CTE in the use of Job Speaker, Student Services on tools available in Vita Navis, programs in Guided Pathway including other programs of study
- 9. Reinforce use of Vita Navis in all its features, i.e., Career Pathways, Education Pathways, Skills Builder and Resume Builder and overall use of Students' Dashboard
- 10. Explore Guided Pathways designed to meet the needs of part-time students who will transfer
- 11. Ongoing campaigns and workshops on financial literacy on grants, scholarships, and loans at the university presented by university/college staff
- 12. Campaigns to involve parents and spouses/partners in their instrumental and enacted supports for the prospective university transfer students
- 13. Advocacy for students with intentional focus on the inter-sections of race and gender

Research is deemed vital in eliminating disproportionate impact. Research focusing on fast-changing contextual life experiences of students across colleges can assist in relevant, nimble changes that can be effectuated. As gleaned from our data, corrective measures were successful in one year and an abrupt change occurred the following year. Critical, dramatic changes can be interpreted not only locally but statewide research perspectives can shed greater light in tilting the odds for our disproportionately impacted groups.

Additionally, continuous summative and evaluative research in our college will be used to inform us on what the college can do and improve, including ways to sustain the consequential transformation of the college sectors. The way we conduct the business of education must be infused with equity and social justice sensitivities in all our actions across the college. Continuous professional development on sustaining multicultural competencies and our crusade for equity and social justice must be at the forefront in eliminating disproportionate impacts.

Lastly, technology and other tools will be needed in the implementation of action plans to uphold equitable culture including the rich provision of supports to identified disproportionately impacted groups.

Help Text: What services are you providing or do you plan to provide in your college's Basic Needs Center? (2,500 character max)

San Bernardino Valley College (SBVC) plans to use these funds to increase both support, and current infrastructure to meet the basic needs of our students. Our Valley 360 Resource Center will increase its hours of operations,, and will expand to provide clothing at an additional location on campus. SBVC will conduct surveys to those who currently use the V360 Resource Center, in addition to the general student body to identify gaps that need to be addressed. Solutions will encompass oncampus and off-campus partnerships, MOUs, and Cal Fresh outreach. Specifically, these funds will be used to hire a Basic Needs Coordinator, additional support staff including student employees, and additional physical structures to support a center, a newly developed website, and a text resource feature that students can access anywhere.

Participation

San Bernardino Valley College (SBVC) will be incorporating the Basic Needs Center into the matriculation process (new student welcome day) and collaborate means to inform students of the services the center provides. These include working with faculty to add the center on course syllabi, CANVAS and other web-based tools, social media, flyers, and working directly with counselors. We have been utilizing Presence, student engagement software, to track students who come in for food and will move forward in capturing data that identifies the additional reasons for a visit to the center.

Food Pantry

San Bernardino Valley College (SBVC) has been operating a food pantry – Valley 360 Resource Center since (2017). Under the support of the Associated Student Government (ASG) and campus community, SBVC opened the center in a small heavily trafficked area. The center outgrew the space and was moved to a larger location. The center has established relationships with the Community Action Partnership of San Bernardino, and Feeding America Riverside-San Bernardino. The center offers hygiene products, snack food items, canned food, fresh produce, frozen food, meats, and items for cooking and baking. The center has also collaborated with the SBVC Cafeteria and the SBVC Culinary Arts program to provide hot/ready to eat meals for students.

ZERO-TEXTBOOK COST

Zero-Textbook Cost Program

Help Text: The 2021-22 Budget Act provided $115 million one-time for grants to community college districts for developing zero-textbook-cost degrees and certificates that can be earned entirely by completing courses that eliminate textbook costs by using alternative instructional materials. Please discuss your plans, if any, for integrating a Zero-Textbook Cost Program on your campus. (2,500 character max)

"Open Educational Resources (OER) are any type of educational materials that are in the public domain or introduced with an open license. The nature of these open materials means that anyone can legally and freely copy, use, adapt, and re-share them. OERs range from textbooks to curricula, syllabi, lecture notes, assignments, tests, projects, audio, video, and animation" (Definition by UNESCO). In spring 2016, SBVC faculty and students voted in the affirmative to support faculty use of high-quality open educational resources to reduce the cost of textbooks and supplies for students. The SBVC Associated Student Government placed on the ballot an OER initiative and the SBVC Academic Senate passed SP16.01 Textbook Affordability and Open Education Resources resolution. In the fall 2016, SBVC was awarded an OER grant per the stipulations of the College Textbook Affordability Act of 2015 which incentivizes CCC and CSU campuses to reduce costs for college students by encouraging faculty to adopt high-quality open educational resources.

The California Open Online Library for Education website is maintained by the three states of California higher education systems to provide faculty direct access to peer-reviewed OER instructional materials.

This SBVC OER website curates OER instructional materials and support services for SBVC faculty, students, and staff. The use of quality free and low-cost instructional materials by faculty gives all students the opportunity to succeed from the start of the semester and onward. Embedded in the OER movement is the belief that education is not a privilege reserved for the few who can financially afford it but a human right for all who desire to pursue it.

Commit to making a difference in reducing the cost of instructional materials for SBVC learners through the use of high-quality open educational resources. Explore this SBVC OER website.

OER Degree and Certificate Pathways

An OER-based Degree is a degree program in which both:

- o At least one section of all required courses have replaced the commercial textbooks and other resources with OER as the only required materials listed in the syllabus, and
- O At least one section of a sufficient number of elective and general education courses have replaced the commercial textbooks and other resources with OER as the only required materials listed in the syllabus.

By meeting these two criteria, OER-based Degrees create powerful impacts on campus:

- o They provide students with a pathway through their degree program in which they are never asked to purchase a textbook or other commercial resource, dramatically reducing their cost to graduate.
- o Research indicates that students whose faculty assign OER in place of commercial materials perform as well or better on key student success metrics (like completion and C or better) as their peers whose faculty assign commercial materials. When OER adoption is accompanied by course redesign efforts, impacts on student success metrics can be dramatic.
- o The broad permissions provided by OER increase faculty freedom by opening a range of new pedagogical possibilities.
- o Finally, decreases in drops (and their accompanying tuition refunds) and increases in enrollment intensity can positively impact institutional finances. OER-based Degrees truly benefit all education stakeholders.

LGBTQ+

LGBTQ+ Support

Help Text: In 2011, Assembly Bill 620 amended California's Education Code and requests "governing board[s] of each community college district to designate an employee at each of their respective campuses as a point of contact to address the needs of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender faculty, staff, and students." The law, California Education Code Section 66271.2 also states that, "at a minimum, the name and contact information of that designated employee shall be published on the Internet Web site for the respective campus and shall be included in any printed and Internet-based campus directories." Additionally, the 2021-22 Budget Act appropriated $10 million in one-time funding to support LGBTQ+ students. Please discuss your plans or current efforts to support the LGBTQ+ population on your campus. (2,500 character max)

Transform the educational setting to better understand, support, and improve the lives of diverse LGBTQ communities and movements.

To provide institutional change within the district to advance internal policies and practices to be more effective and support LGBTQ communities and advance social justice.

To empower district leadership in an educational setting by cultivating a supportive village with professional development opportunities to support LGBTQ-identifying people and allies.

- •Professional development and training on serving LGBTQ+ students
- •Support for gay and straight alliance clubs
- •Lavender Graduation
- Workshops or speaker series

A barrier for both colleges is finding ongoing funding to staff an LGBTQ+ ecosystem that will help reduce equity gaps and promote inclusivity, pride, and a sense of community on campus. In addition to ongoing funding for LGBTQ+ programming, the colleges need to identify adequate facilities and student space to plan year-round activities and allow students to gather and build a community.

- Our campus life departments will both work with students to revitalize the LGBTQ+ club and provide a safe space for LGBTQ+ students and staff to build a community. This in turn will help us learn the educational, social, and emotional support the LGBQ+ students need to achieve their educational goals. As a result, we will incorporate staff development opportunities in the form of workshops and training related to LGBTQ+ students and their needs to promote a positive student experience.
- The district will create a Task Force which will include club advisors, students, faculty and research representatives, and other stakeholders to make recommendations and provide workshops to campus employees including staff, faculty, and administrators. This Task Force will also serve as part of a support system for the LGBTQ+ community.
- The lack of permanent or ongoing funding to establish a Center and institutionalize programming for long-term LGBTQ+ student support. In addition, institutions may be challenged to capture the entire LGBTQ+ student population as some students may have reservations or fear to self-identify

MENTAL HEALTH

Mental Health-Related Programs

Help Text: The 2021-22 Budget Act included ongoing funding of $30 million to provide student mental health resources. Please discuss your plans or current efforts to create mental health-related programs to serve hard to reach, underserved populations. (2,500 character max)

General Approach: Therapeutic behavioral health counseling is provided, in person or virtually, free to all registered students, during daytime class hours. This provides easy access to students who otherwise might not have access to therapeutic counseling. Virtual services allow access for students unable to come to campus.

Veterans: In the past 10 years we have provided imbedded counseling in the safe environment of the veteran's center through an MOU with a community partner. That partnership just ended due to loss of funding. Veterans are at high risk for suicide and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). We plan to have a clinician provide a regular presence in the Veterans Center as staffing and caseload allow.

Men of color: Our male therapist will be supporting the reformation of the "Brothers Club", who's mission is to provide connection and support to our men of color. Healthy connections are associated with success and retention. We have also offered targeted events for this group such as "MIC check" which explored the power of music in getting us through challenges such as the COVID pandemic.

Dreamers (Undocumented Students): Our dreamer students are a vulnerable population, who are sometimes isolated and benefit from connections with trusted allies on our campus. Two of our Latino staff are providing monthly workshops for dreamers utilizing a variety of the arts to promote self-expression, peer support, manage stress and anxiety, and explore purpose and connection.

At Risk Students of Concern: Counseling staff and Coordinator are on the Behavioral Intervention Team (BIT). A dedicated therapeutic, Associate Social Worker (ASW), counselor provides case management, referrals, support, and a connection point for at risk students reported to the BIT/Care team. All vulnerable populations have been represented.

Guardian Scholars: We offer workshop training and support groups to this cohort, several times a semester, in coordination with the academic counselor serving this high risk and vulnerable population.

Parents: Parenting support groups have been offered one to two times a semester as well as one-time events.

Women: Women's therapeutic empowerment group, "Her Story," 5-week sessions are offered twice a semester, to address topics such as self-esteem, sexuality, intimate relationships, family dynamics and body image. This is a closed group so trust and safety are emphasized, and women receive peer support and validation from other group members. We also celebrate International Women's Day, in March.

LBGTQ+: We involve the club representing this interest in our events and health fairs. Present to their group regularly. Intake forms for our services have been revised with inclusive language regarding gender, sexual identity, and individual preferences.
