A Few FAQs

Do I have to be on campus to teach Hy-Flex?

Yes.

You will be in a classroom outfitted with equipment to support Hy-Flex instruction and learning.

Where will my students be?

You will have two groups of students present at the same time. One group will be present in the classroom with you and the other group will be present online. Your online students will join via Zoom and be visible on a specific screen in the classroom.

How will my online students join the classroom?

Your online students will join the classroom virtually through Zoom. The Zoom link will be one that you have provided to the students prior to the start of the course.

Why do I have two rosters for my Hy-Flex course?

Hy-Flex courses have two section numbers. One section is for the on-campus group and the other is for the online group. At the time of registration, students have the option to choose how they want to join the course. You will have a roster for each of these sections.

How will my students know where to attend class?

Students will choose to register for the on-campus section or the online section of the course. The course schedule has a description of each section provided for students to review and guide their registration choices. Students in the online section of the course need to be provided a Zoom link within the Canvas shell, or other communication path, prior to the first day of class. There should also be guidance for the students directing them to the link and the expectations for joining.

How do I start a Hy-Flex class session?

You will begin your course at the scheduled time listed in the course schedule. When in the classroom, you will open and start the Zoom session for your online students at the same time you begin face-to-face instruction.
